DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

Applicant is required to elect one species for examination for each of A and B listed below:

A) Applicant is required to elect a single species of UV absorbing chromophore from those recited in instant claim 1.

B) Applicant is required to elect one type of hyperbranched polymer from:

- i. Formula (II) in claim 30 (which requires the glycidol building block).
- ii. the hyperbranched polymer of claim 33 (which excludes the glycidol building block).

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the common technical feature is not special because it is disclosed in the prior art. The common technical feature of all the claims is a hyperbranched polymer with UV absorbing chromophore end groups. This common technical feature is disclosed in the prior art as previously set forth in the office action dated 2/3/09. Henceforth, the common technical feature of the invention is not special and the claims lack unity of invention and are properly restrictable.

A telephone call was made to Bryan Davidson on 7/29/09 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
